THE equilibrium of Kentucky politics has not been disturbed by that flying, braying, ranting Billie B.

Who ever heard of a minister supporting a man for Governor, who had killed an innocent man? Minister, remember what you preach: "Thou shalt not kill."

THE oratory of Bryan against the people's rights in Kentucky was like that of Eschinese when Demosthenes was on probation for a crown. It caused his ostracism from Kentucky society.

If Goebel is elected, what may we hope from a jury in murder cases?
Should he be elected, will we not have a reign of terror, like that which blotted the Roman Empire from the world's map?

MR. BRYAN has appeared on the Kentucky stump in company with Billie Goebel and 'Jezie' Blackburn and he has vanished like a meteor in the heavens, and left nothing more nor less than a small "crack in the wind."

If Goebel is elected Governor, may we not expect all the criminals and murderers in the penitentiary to be pardoned? May we not expect to have a law enacted justifying slayers of men and their liberties? Should Goebel not do this he would prove unfaithful to his companions.

GOEBEL'S leaders are deserting him.
Judge John T. Hodge, of Newport, has resigned his position on the State Democratic committee. He says: "I AM THOROUGHLY DISGUSTED WITH THE WHOLE CROWD. I WANT NOTHING TO DO WITH THEM; NO SELF-RESPECTING MAN COULD LONGER TOLER-ATE THEM." Judge Hodge is preparing a letter, in which he says he will show who the unmitigated liars and double-dealers are.

AFTER General Taylor's speaking had been announced more than three weeks, the Goebel Democrats have arranged to have a rally on the same day at Beaver Dam. When Goebel spoke here we made no effort to keep any man from hearing him, and this act of the Goebel campaign committee proves that they are afraid of the truth. They know that they are following an unprincipled scoundrel and do not hesitate to carry out his plans.
This is an ungentlemanly act upon the part of the committee and brands each and every one of them as cowards and defenders of a set of "thieves and cut-throats." But this is in keeping with the tactics of the Goebel campaign.

THE Goebel organs have a measure for the size of lie they shall tell relative to a Taylor speaking or a Goebel speaking. The Owensboro Messenger gave Bradley's crowd at Owensboro Monday at 1,200, when he was greeted by at least 5,000 people. The Courier-Journal reported the Goebel blow-out here at 2,000, when by actual count there was a sum total, including men, women and children of 1,000. Who will answer for these unsolicited fabrications, these uncalled for prevarications, these unpardonable lies? If there is anything indicative of the great millennium at the close of the 19th century it is certainly the course of William Goebel, Hon. J. C.

S. Blackburn, Hoorey Woodson, William Jennings Bryan and others of the Latter Saints Democrats.

HONEST election officers, just a word.
You have no doubt heard much said about how the election will be conducted on November 7. This is all in the future. God in Heaven alone knows how it will be conducted. Prepare yourself for the day's struggle.
Go to the polls early. Be on time.
See that there is nothing left undone upon your part, that could lead to a contest. Inform yourselves of your duties and perform them honestly, fairly and squarely to all parties.
Watch, let this be your guide. When the vote is counted, see that all certificates are properly signed up, take one yourself and see that one is sent to the County Clerk properly signed.
But in no case do that which you would not allow your political opponents to do. Do what is right, and in the name of justice; in the name of the sons of Kentucky, whose blood has bathed the soil of every State in this grand Union, from the Atlantic to the Mississippi for freedom's cause, whose every deed is a laurel to the crown of liberty, in the name of fair and beloved Kentucky, the created Paradise, the home of the immortal Clay, see that every man's vote is counted as cast.

We are informed that two of the attorneys of this city are stumping the county for Goebel and are making a special tirade on THE REPUBLICAN.
One of these attorneys bears the title of Judge, obtained by having grace or disgraced the position as Police Judge of this city, and the other's title is Solomon the rattle-brain. These attorneys, whose consciences are case-hardened, if they should have any now, in addressing their little crowds, composed of about a handful of Goebelites, charge the twin editors, as they call us, of misrepresenting the Goebelites. We leave this for our readers to determine and not these con-scienceless, two-by-four-jacks-of-attorneys. What falls from the pen of the editors of THE REPUBLICAN comes from men who live in the fear of a just God, whose name, to their utterances, is as precious and sacred as the sweet and happy life, which they enjoy. The good people, who read our paper, may believe the charges of these murderer-approvers, but we shall be slow in believing it. It they do, we must confess that they are not constructed out of the material by which we have measured them. If the lives, of those who assail us, could be read as they have been lived, it would be a waste of time and space to say aught against these charges.

Mr. Ringo and the Goebel Election Law.

Mr. Ringo, in a very labored effort, attempts to defend the Goebel election law, in the columns of the Herald this week. We are indeed surprised at the amount of intelligence that this able attorney exhibits in this article. We are unable to see how any honest, Christian gentleman can come before the public in defense of such a law.
We have repeatedly called attention of the public to the unfairness of this measure, and we have put a number of questions to the supporters of that measure and not a response have we received. We question the integrity of no man. We challenge no man's honesty. But we do question the sincerity of some gentlemen, who are in the attitude of deterring this Goebel law. We have contended from first to last that there is no pretense of fairness about this law, and as further proof of this fact, we refer our readers again to the election commission. This commission may be, and is all Goebel Democrats and these gentlemen have the votes of the free people in their hands. Mr. Ringo, would you be willing to entrust the elections of Kentucky in the hands of three Republican commissioners? It is possible under this measure that all the county commissioners may be of one political party. This is the case in many counties and there is not a single county in Kentucky that has two Republicans in the county board of commissioners. In every county in Kentucky there are two Democrats on every county commission board. Mr.
Ringo, would you be willing to exchange with the Republicans of Kentucky? We conclude, Mr. Ringo, that you are not sincere in your argument unless you answer these questions in the affirmative. We have never claimed that Ohio county would have an illegal election. We have contended that it would be fair. And now, since the commissioners of this county have performed their duty, Mr.
Ringo comes out and eulogizes himself in a way similar to that paid to the gallant deer. Forgetting the Good Word which says: "He that ex-alteth himself, the same shall be abashed." THE REPUBLICAN has at no time questioned the honesty of any member of the Ohio county board of commission. This is to be clearly borne in mind. This gentleman in his eulogy, forgoes and loses sight of the outrages committed by the Goebel commissioners in Fayette, Christian and other counties in the State, when the election officers submitted by the Republican commissioners were in every instance ignored.

The case of Mr. A. T. Nall, &c. vs.
Wood Tinsley, &c., which you sight, Mr. Ringo, is a question to be determined under the local option statute, which specially provides for an appeal.
See Kentucky Statute, section 2567, which reads as follows:

"THE CONTESTANTS OR CON-TESTES SHALL HAVE THE RIGHT TO APPEAL FROM THE DECISION OF THE BOARD TO THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE COUNTY WHERE THE CONTEST IS PENDING, IN THE SAME WAY AS APPEALS ARE TAKEN FROM THE QUARTERLY COURT TO THE
CIRCUIT COURT; AN APPEAL MAY ALSO BE TAKEN FROM THE
CIRCUIT COURT TO THE COURT OF APPEALS."

This section was not repealed or modified in any way by the act known as the Goebel election law and it was from this local option act, and it alone that the appellants had any right to an appeal; yet, in view of this plain statutory provision of the law, we do not question your sincerity or ignorance.

Georgetown, Ky., Oct. 24.—The people in this city are very much incensed over the high handed work of the Goebel election commissioners in appointing the officers of election yesterday.

"Even many Goebel people have revolted at this Goebelistic performance." The names of the Goebel commissioners are Frank Thompson and Robt.
Wright, that of the Republican commissioner, Llewellyn F. Sinclair.

"At a previous meeting the election officers were appointed for the city of Georgetown, who served at registration. They were good men. The Democrats—that is, the Goebelites—secured every clerk at the registration except one."

"Yesterday they removed these officers and placed in their stead many men that are notoriously disqualified and incompetent; the Republicans selected do not live in the precinct and some of them can not read or write, as required by law. In one instance they selected a boy for the Republicans, who is not of age and is now going to the common school in his district. Again, they appointed men that are not housekeepers. Some of them have not lived in the precinct 12 months, as the law requires."

"The Republican commissioner was not allowed to suggest or present his list of officers that had been recommended for appointment. One of the Goebel commissioners stated at the meeting that they were there for the purpose of serving the interest of their party and they proposed to take every advantage that the Goebel law afforded them." When asked for the reason such men were removed in this city as Dr. John E. Pack, ex Representative of Scott county, and All Bradley Jr., merchant and well-known business man, and T. H. Braden, proprietor of the Georgetown steam laundry, and Dan Childers—the chairman of the commissioners replied that they "had power to remove them at any time."

Now, Mr. Ringo, is this fair? If you won't answer to the people, remember you will have to answer to your God. In this labored effort of this gentleman he declares that the decision of this board SHALL NOT BE FINAL NOR CONCLUSIVE.
What board? The three election commissioners? This is the language of the law found on page 985, latter part of article, section 12, Senate Journal: THE DECISION OF THE BOARD SHALL BE FINAL AND CONCLUSIVE. On same page, first part of section 13, is found this language:

"THE COUNTY BOARD OF
ELECTION COMMISSIONERS, OR ANY TWO OF THEM,
SHALL BE A BOARD IN EACH COUNTY, WITH LIKE POWERS AS THOSE MENTIONED IN THE NEXT PRECEDING SEC-TION FOR DETERMINING THE CONTESTED ELECTION OF
ANY OFFICER ELECTIVE
BY THE VOTES OF THE
COUNTY, OR ANY DISTRICT
THEREIN, EXCEPTING MEM-BERS OF THE GENERAL AS-SEMBLY, &c."

Now, in the light of the law itself, this gentleman, in his labored effort, either wilfully or intentionally evaded the real facts in the case for the purpose of misleading the voter, or else he is ignorant of the subject under discussion.

Kentucky and Bryan

One thing peculiarly strange about Bryan's Kentucky visit, and it isn't very strange either, when viewed from the proper light, and that is his refusal to discuss the infamous election law that was free from George, Third, and has, as yet, acknowledged no master, accept this trouble-seeker, this manprover, this man-slayer, this per-juror, this political highwayman, this abomination in the sight of the Lord?
Will truth gale or loose on the battlefield of November 7th? Kentucky never acknowledged a master in the days of the revolution. She declared her neutrality and maintained it in the civil war and we are averse to believe that she will now submit to a master.
This political quack may succeed, yet we hope not. If he does, it will be by the prodigious skill of chance and his counting machine.

and waving bluegrass, with hill and dale, with mountain and moor he said it should be the fair land of the pure and noble womanhood of his kingdom, the home of the brave, and upon the story book of ages he wrote this inscription: "This land shall know no master." How foolish for William Goebel or William Bryan to attempt to lead this people, by creation free, by nature rebellious to any master, from the principles and devices of their fathers. Messrs. Goebel and Bryan would better turn to dogs and "bay the moon than be such Romans." A vain effort was Mr. Bryan's idle plea for party harmony when Kentucky had so much at stake. A useless trip for the Nebraska when party prejudice has been laid aside. Mr.
Bryan has demonstrated to the public by entering the Kentucky brawl, that he has less of foresight and judgment than he had formerly been credited.
Waterson has well described him after he had made his appearance on the stage in Louisville for the first time. This is the language of the Courier-Journal's matchless editor in describing Bryan:

"MR. WILLIAM J. BRYAN HAS COME TO KENTUCKY, AND KEN-TUCKIANS HAVE TAKEN HIS MEASURE. HE IS A BOY ORA-TOR. HE IS A DISHONEST DODG-ER. HE IS A DARING ADVENTU-RER. HE IS A POLITICAL FA-KIR. HE IS NOT OF THE MAT-TERIAL OF WHICH THE PEOPLE OF
THE UNITED STATES HAVE EVER MADE A PRESIDENT; NOR IS HE EVEN OF THE MATERIAL OF WHICH ANY PARTY HAS EVER BEFORE MADE A CANDIDATE."

And yet, in spite of this language, this same paper is lauding and praising the identical Bryan. Does the Courier-Journal have reasons for changing its mind? We think so. This we may be sure the Courier-Journal will never favor free coinage of anything save "School Books" and they must be free to no other job concern save that of W. B. Haldeman.

TRUTH FOREVER ON THE SCAFFOLD.

Truth, from our earliest knowledge of man, in the garden of Eden, has been at war with error. In many instances wrong has prevailed for a time, but eventually truth arises in her strength and power and liberates herself from falsehood and puts the angels of sin to horrid flight.

It was truth that had been arraigned that made it necessary for the Savior to be created and to be crucified as he was. It was for truth's sake that he endured the awful pain of death.
Never since the Creator blessed the clay, out of which man was created, has there been a contest but that truth was upon the one side and error upon the other.

Truth forever on the scaffold, Wrong forever on the throne, Yet that scaffold sways the future And behind the dim unknown, Standeth God within the shadow Keeping watch above his own."

The poet has well told the story of this text. He had in mind a question in which truth was arraigned, and in this contest, though the foundation of the nation was shaken and the equilibrium disturbed, right prevailed, and it has so happened since the first contest. To-day, in the most enlightened period of man's existence, we are confronted by a question, in which truth and falsehood are at war. There is no question as to how it will end, but there seems to be some doubt as to when and where it will end. The advocates of truth, in this contest, are freedom and liberty against the ambitious young Dutchman from the Keystone state. Since the advent of this Judas into Kentucky politics, that placid character formerly characteristic of true Kentucky Democracy has been transformed into scenes of confusion and strife within the party walls.
And yet that restless spirit has escaped, up to the present, that political guillotine, which he so much deserves, and for which destiny has him billed for immediate destruction. This political fakir and desperado, in spite of truth, in spite of the honor and dignity of Kentucky manhood, vows that by and with his counting machine, he will crush truth and thwart the will of the people for the next generation.
Has Kentucky so fallen, from her former high estate, when her sons graced every vocation in life with credit to both State and nation, that the brave heroes of the past are to be disgraced, that the fair name, Kentucky, shall be associated with the down-trodden and oppressed by the advent of one man, William Goebel, to the Governor's chair? Will Kentucky, the only American province that was free from George, Third, and
has, as yet, acknowledged no master,
juror, this political highwayman, this
abomination in the sight of the Lord?

Who would think there was insanity behind a drop of water? But there is. It was a favorite notion in the old days to fasten the victim where water should slowly drip on his forehead. In a little while he was a howling maniac.

Women do not, as a rule, realize how the steady drains which sometimes afflict them must at last react on the mind. Sometimes, it is only fretfulness, irritability or peevishness. At other times the condition passes beyond unreasonableness to irrationality.

Who Hit Mr. "Wringo."

Under the head of Honest Elections
Mr. Ben D. Ringo, Secretary County Board of Election Commissioners rushes frantically into print in the Hartford Herald this week and attempts to defend the Goebel Election Law, with all of its viciousness, and makes some strong assertions against some honest people of Ohio county, which are unbecoming a christian gentleman, smacks very strong after Goebelism, in all of its pernicious forms. He says:

"The people have been told that Mr. Goebel has had an election commission appointed to count him in and others out, &c." and then goes on and refers to sections of the law and in his quotation he is as far off as he was in drawing his notice of contest against Circuit Clerk Anderson in 1897. The Senate Journal in reporting the Goebel Election Law says the decision of the Board of Contest shall be final and conclusive. Do you deny this? Can you account for the change after the bill had been enrolled? And the next section of the bill says that County Boards shall have like powers as those mentioned in the foregoing sections, which means in county contests the decision of the County Board shall be final. What say you to this, brother? Am I misquoting it or have you "gone wrong" as usual. Maybe Mr. Ringo is in the same condition that he was in 1896, making speeches in one county advocating one thing and lending his influence in another county advocating another thing.

He prates and howls about his honesty in appointing officers in this county, and all because he has done his duty. We have always said we would have a fair election in this county as we have always had, Mr.
Ringo to the contrary notwithstanding, because a Democratic court said so.
But how have the Republicans fared in other counties. Look at Fayette county. Franklin county, the home of South Trimble, who said "We must have unreliable Republican officers," and asked his friend to resign from the election board. Look at Bar-ren county, and see how things are conducted there; you can see from the following dispatch:

Glasgow, Ky., Oct. 23.—The election commissioners for this county had their final meeting here to-day to select precinct election officers. The Republican election commissioner says his recommendations were almost altogether ignored. He first submitted a list of names of Republicans, only about five of which were accepted by the two Goebelite commissioners. He then submitted a list of true Democrats and Goebelites and only one of them was accepted.

The Goebelite commissioners did not fail by any means to exercise the power of discretion granted them under the Goebel election law, that is for the Goebelites to say who are Republicans and who are not, and yet one of these very men was claiming a few days ago that the Goebel law was just as fair as the Ohio law. Some of the Republicans who were named are too old to make good election officers."

How's this for a sample of the fairness of your law? Do you endorse it?
Would you favor such law in the hands of the Republican party? Nay verily! There is something radically wrong with a law when five political parties out of six condemn it in their platform and only one party endorses it, and then the author steals the nomination of his party and walks off as a candidate for Governor. Do you endorse this action?

POLITICAL COMMENTS.

Tom Pettit, a school house orator, is billed for a Democratic speech at Beaver Dam, Nov. 4th. The Democratic bosses are afraid to let their people hear Gen. Taylor.

Mr. Ringo says: "The election in Ohio county in 1897 was the most partisan and unfair ever held in the county." Who lied, Mr. Ringo or a Democratic Court of Appeals?

John Rhea, a Democratic Congressman, said in a speech a few days ago, "The Republican party made of the negro what God Almighty never intended him to be, a citizen." Rhea's declaration should greatly encourage the negro Goebelites.

In placing the name of Wat Hardin before the Democratic convention here last spring, Mr. Ben D. Ringo said: "If you nominate either of those men (Goebel or Stone) you will have to go all over the country explaining their records," and Ben is out now making those explanations.

When Governor Bradley said: "As long as the Goebel election law remains upon the statute books it is a menace to human liberty, and the Republican who would parade his personal grievances in the face of such a danger is not worthy the name of a man," he welded ten thousand votes to the Republican State ticket.

Will the "yellow dog" organ around the corner, explain why Gen. Hardin and Capt. Stone—each of whom had a better endorsement at the hands of the Kentucky Democracy in the Music Hall convention than Senator Goebel —will not support the nominal nominee of that convention? Will these gentlemen break the precedent of a century without grave cause?

It Hangs On

If it was only health, we might let it cling.
But it is a cough. One cold no sooner passes off before another comes. But it's the same old cough all the time.
And it's the same old story, too. There is first the cold, then the cough, then pneumonia or consumption with the long sickness, and life trembling in the balance.

Resolutions on the Death of Comrade Obed Chapman.

Whereas, God has seen fit to call from our midst our comrade, who was a member in good standing in our Post. He was born in Ohio county, Ky., in 1830, being 60 years old at the time of his death. He served during the late war in Company D 22d, Ky. Cav., and was honorably discharged after he had faithfully discharged his duty for his country.

Resolved, That we hear with great sorrow of the death of our comrade. He departed this life on October 17th, 1899, three miles East of Hartford on his farm, and was laid away by P. M. Post No. 4 G. A. R. at Carson graveyard West of Hartford. Chaplain Rev. J. A. Bennett officiating at the grave, a large attendance, from all around where he had many friends was present.

Resolved, That we hereby tender our sympathy to his children and relatives, and request these proceedings be published in THE HARTFORD REPUBLICAN and a copy sent to the family.

SAD ACCIDENTS.

Mr. Christopher Taylor Carson Meets His Death While Cutting Timber.

Jim Taylor, colored, Accidentally Shot Claude Eidson, Also Colored, While Out Hunting.

Mr. Christopher T. Carson, one of the foremost and leading citizens of the No Creek vicinity, met with a sad accident last Saturday, while cutting a tree on his farm, a limb from the falling tree struck his forehead and breast, but not seriously hurting him at the time. He was able to walk to his residence without assistance, but on arriving his pains had been intensified so he laid down on a cot to rest. The outward shows of injury were very slight and no thought of serious trouble was anticipated by the family, but the injury was internal and proved fatal in twenty-four hours from the time he was struck by the limb. Medical aid could effect nothing, and Mr. Carson breathed his last at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. He was a member of a large and respectable family, composed of ten boys, five of whom are dead, and three girls, two of whom yet survive. Besides his brothers and sisters, he leaves a wife and nine children to mourn his departure to the beyond. Funeral services were held at the No Creek church by Rev. Howes, Presiding Elder. The largest crowd that No Creek has witnessed for many years, gathered to pay tribute to the deceased husband, father, friend and neighbor. After the conclusion of the funeral services, the remains were interred in the Carson graveyard at No Creek. THE REPUBLICAN desires to extend sympathy to the family in this saddest hour of their existence.

Saturday afternoon the colored people of Hayti were horror-stricken when the news came that Jim Taylor had shot and perhaps fatally wounded Claude Eidson. The boys had gone to the fields in search of game, and in a way mysterious to every one, this affair occurred. It is believed by some of the colored people that it was Taylor's carelessness that the shooting occurred, but we are unable to learn the truth of the story. At any rate, the boy is dangerously hurt. The ball entered above the left eye, penetrating to the brain and leaving an ugly and nauseating wound. The Drs. were summoned and removed part of the ball, but owing to the condition of the patient, they were unable to remove it entirely. It is thought that Eidson will die.

Mr. Ora Phillips, Phillip's Station, accidentally shot himself, while reloading a gun, on the 19th. Dr. E. W. Ford was summoned and dressed the wound. The left arm was badly mangled by the discharge of the gun. We hope, however, that this member of the body may be saved, and will by proper care, says the reporter.

District Teachers' Association

The Fourth Congressional District Teachers' Association met at Beaver Dam, Friday and Saturday, October 20 and 21, with quite a number of visiting teachers present and a host of home teachers in attendance. Meade county was represented by her Superintendent and eleven teachers; Hardin county, the birthplace of the Association three years since, sent a delegation of five teachers and her Superintendent; Grayson county was represented by her Superintendent and seven teachers. These teachers seemed to be up-to-date, energetic instructors of the minds of the young and took an active part in the program. About sixty of Ohio county's best and most energetic teachers attended, all of whom enjoyed the session and were better prepared to meet the duties of their labors by having attended. Many teachers remained at home because of the fact that for them to attend would naturally incur some expense upon their part and therefore they absented themselves from this Association. However, there was a splendid corps of teachers present and the work of the meeting will be told in after years. It is a step toward progress in the teachers profession. It is a splendid triumph for that class of teachers who are endeavoring to grace their profession with honor rather than dishonor. It is a step toward the elevation of Kentucky schools. We are proud of the success of this organization and bid the members good cheer and greet them in their every effort. Success must come to the teacher, if it comes at all, by a co-operation of the teachers of both county and State. The time has come, and the teachers are recognizing it, too, when the teacher, like men of other vocations, must unite their efforts and work to the same end. This District Association is a step in that direction. It should be encouraged by every teacher in the district. The teachers of the various counties should encourage it by perfecting their county Associations. The day is not far distant when the teacher will be required to attend his county Associations as one requisite of his profession. Glorious day, when that shall be, for the schools of the county and State. This Association proved the banner session since the organization, three years ago. Ohio county teachers should be proud of it and should strive to maintain their high standing.

Kentucky's Gallant Governor Spoke to Thousands

A Grand Republican Rally at Owensboro.

Goebelism Doomed to Defeat.

Editors REPUBLICAN:—Owensboro, Ky., Oct. 24.—Gov. W. O. Bradley spoke here yesterday afternoon to an audience of over 5,000 people, who were enthusiastic and cheering for the Republican ticket and Republican principles. He was met at the train by a delegation of prominent Republicans and was driven to the residence of Mr. Lawson Reno, and at 1:30 o'clock he was driven in a carriage to the Court House, where a platform had been erected in the Court House yard, where he was greeted by an immense audience of eager listeners. He was introduced by Mr. Reno, who paid a glowing tribute to Kentucky's first Republican Governor, who immediately launched into his speech in his usual strong and convincing way.

He reviewed the management of the State affairs under Republican rule and showed the vast difference between affairs now and while it was run by Democrats, showing that when the Republicans took charge of Kentucky the State was in debt more than a million dollars and under the wise management of the Republicans this vast sum had been paid off and at the end of this year and at the end of this administration the State will be practically out of debt. He said this administration had been clean, clear cut, and a business administration throughout, and had been for the interest of the people. He denounced in no uncertain terms the last Democratic Legislature and their partisan work in trampling the constitution under foot and passing bills, not for the good of the people, but for the benefit of their petty henchmen. Especially did he denounce the awful measure known as the Goebel Election Law, and showed the fallacy of the necessity of such measure, and said it was to disfranchise the people and to rob them of their constitutional right to cast a free ballot and have that ballot counted as cast. He urged all people of all political parties to come out and help elect Gen. Taylor and the entire Republican ticket and thus continue in power the party of progress and good government.

At the close of Governor Bradley's speech it was pronounced by all who heard him as one of the best speeches ever heard here.

Davies county is strictly in line for Gen. Taylor and the Republican ticket, and the city Legislative District will go Republican by about 300 majority, while the county will give a small Republican majority.

The Republicans are in fine shape here and are enthusiastic and Goebelism is doomed.

Howard and Jarnagin at Centertown.

Capt. N. T. Howard and Hon. R. C. Jarnagin spoke to a large crowd at Centertown, Monday night. Captain Howard made a splendid effort. He showed the Goebel election law in its proper light, showing explicitly the possible crimes which may be committed under this law, and not a single dollar of bond is required of any commissioner or officer in the State, and absolutely no penalty for any offense, it matters not how grave. This law might do to control the angels in Heaven, but it cannot govern politicians of the Goebel type. The speakers were frequently applauded and the speeches were well taken. Centertown will do the proper thing November 7.

OBITUARY.

On September 29, 1899, at the residence of his father, John Lanham, two miles north of Dundee, Ohio county, Ky., after lingering for eight long months with the dreaded disease, consumption, Pat Lanham was called from earth to his future reward.

Pat was a noble specimen of the stalwart Kentucky youth, frank, honest, industrious and obliging, and he it said to his honor, he was his mother's confident, and his mother was his most confidential friend, and we conclude that a higher tribute can not be paid to any young man or woman than this.

Pat had been in failing health for some years, although he was a little more than 24 years of age at the time of his death he had never married, never did more loving hands or heart minister to the afflicted than those that ministered to Pat Lanham.

His mother was his guardian angel by day and by night. Deceased was a devout member of St. Mary's church at Whitesville, at which place his remains were laid to rest, on the evening of Sept. 30. We learn that he lived a consistent Christian life. We trust his soul is now basking in the sunlight of the Most High.
